

Chimney Cricket, Inc.

Family Owned & Operated for 25 Years

Anyone can put on a top hat and tails and call himself a chimney sweep, but it takes experience and education to become a wood heat expert. Chimney Cricket, located at 1501 Baltimore Pike, phone (610) 328-3084, is a professional, full-time chimney sweep, not a roofer or chimney builder offering cur-rate chimney cleaning as a way to lure you into a roofing job or major chimney repair you probably don't need.

With Chimney Cricket, they are not chimney cleaners whose only interest is running a quick brush through your chimney, collecting the money and running, leaving you wondering if you are any safer than before. They are experts at cleaning and inspecting wood heat systems, and they can advise you of any potential hazards or problems that may be found in your system. Their sweeps are the most knowledgeable in the industry, and can answer all of your questions as well as advise you on the proper burning and care of your system when necessary.

Chimney Cricket's certified sweeps do their own masonry work and are committed to providing the highest quality, most professional service in the area. When your family's safety is at stake, contact these experts. Their years of experience are your assurance of a job well done. They thank their customers for their continued business and welcome the people in the area to call today.
